President's Message

VIRAC Members:

Well, another year is about to come to a close, and preparations are underway for our annual Christmas Party. This year, we will hold our party and supper at the Vegreville Agricultural Society Building, in their large meeting room on Wednesday, December 1, with refreshments at 6:30 PM and a catered banquet at 7:00 PM. The room is well lit, warm, and very handicap accessible.

Thanks are extended to Kulwinder Kundan for taking on the position of SVAA representative. We all know that the late Del Morrison was a fantastic representative and Kulwinder will have a very tough act to follow.

Meanwhile, we are always on the look-out for new members, so if you are aware of a car buff who might be interested in joining our club, invite him/her to a meeting.

Until next time, take care, stay safe, and enjoy what is left of the warm weather.

As well, Merry Christmas and have a very happy and enjoyable holiday season, and all the best to you and yours in the New Year

William Smolak, President

Editor's Message

Welcome to another edition of "The Wheel Spin". Hopefully, one day, I will be able to resume making hard copy versions of the newsletter available to our club members and others. I am still sincerely hoping, the COVID-19 Pandemic ends soon so that we can resume our meetings and social gatherings. However, I am beginning to think that Coronavirus will be with us in much the same way as the Flu is.

If everyone who is qualified to receive the vaccine would actually take the two shots, we might still be able to overcome this malady. I really feel sorry for those who are isolated and are unable to visit with loved ones, or who have lost loved ones and were unable to say good bye because of the pandemic.

Our web site is <http://vegironrunners.ca>. Laurence Anderson is our web master and he would appreciate receiving assistance with it as well as photos and articles to put on it.

"The Wheel Spin" is the official publication of the Vegreville Iron Runners Auto Club and is published quarterly in March, June, September, and December. Deadlines for articles and ads are the 15th day of the month preceding the publication date. The deadline for the next issue in March is February 15.

This is your Bulletin; it is only as good as the effort you, the members, are willing to put into it. The drop off point for your contributions, suggestions and comments is my residence at 5701 – 43 A Street or you may also e-mail me at bsmo47@telus.net.

Activities of the Vegreville Iron Runners Auto Club

The past few months have been relatively quiet as the car show season is slowly coming to an end.

Vegreville Iron Runners Help Vegreville Corn Maze

On Sunday, October 3rd, the “Vegreville Iron Runners Auto Club” helped promote the Vegreville Corn Maze by holding a mini car show at the site. Some 9 member cars were on site along with 4 additional vehicles that are in the Museum garage attached to the Club House used by the Iron Runners. About 400 individuals went through the corn maze, many of them stopping to admire the vehicles on display and also stopping to chat with many of our members. We were in attendance from 11 AM to 4 PM. The weather was great until around 3:30 when a cold breeze from the north west began to blow. Below are some of the pictures from that day.

While there, we did our annual vehicle inspection as well. George (standing) and Darry are reviewing George's Pontiac Chieftain and his inspection report.

We met at the Vegreville Pysanka before proceeding to the Corn Maze on the Museum grounds just East of Vegreville, off Highway 16A.

Our cars are lined up in front of our Club House and the Museum garage. The corn maze is in the field to the east of our vehicles. A lack of rainfall stunted the growth of the corn, but this did not hinder the enthusiasm of the crowd in attendance.

Many of our members are police car enthusiasts and are very popular with the attendees.

Some of our members relaxing out of the wind, enjoying ice cream from the Red Wagon.

After the car show, our police car enthusiasts stopped at the local RCMP detachment building for a photo shoot opportunity. A few RCMP officers in and around Vegreville and St.

Paul, recognized some of the vehicles as ones they used to drive. It is always a thrill for these officers to see their former vehicles fully restored and put on display.

Members Promote Historical Film on RCMP

On October 18, several of our members who are retro police car enthusiasts and a few of their friends came to Vegreville to promote and participate in a film project about the History of the RCMP, the Easter Egg (Pysanka) and the evolution of the RCMP cars. The film will be on the History Channel in the near future. They gathered at the Pysanka in the Vegreville Elks and Kinsmen Park as part of the promotion. Ron Reese, a member of Citizens on Patrol and a retro RCMP car enthusiast submitted the photos attached.

The participants lined their vehicles in front of the new RCMP headquarters in Vegreville.

The Real Santa

I remember my first Christmas party with Grandma. I was just a kid. I remember tearing across town on my bike to visit her on the day my big sister dropped the bomb: "There is no Santa Claus," she jeered. "Even dummies know that!"

My grandma was not the gushy kind, never had been. I fled to her that day because I knew she would be straight with me. I knew Grandma always told the truth, and I knew that the truth always went down a whole lot easier when swallowed with one of her world-famous cinnamon buns. Grandma was home, and the buns were still warm. Between bites, I told her everything. She was ready for me.

"No Santa Claus!" she snorted. "Ridiculous! Don't believe it. That rumor has been going around for years, and it makes me mad, plain mad. Now, put on your coat, and let's go."
"Go? Go where, Grandma?" I asked.

I hadn't even finished my second cinnamon bun. "Where" turned out to be Kerby's General Store, the one store in town that had a little bit of just about everything.

As we walked through its doors, Grandma handed me ten dollars. That was a bundle in those days. "Take this money and buy something for someone who needs it. I'll wait for you in the car." Then she turned and walked out of Kerby's. I was only eight years old.

I'd often gone shopping with my mother, but never had I shopped for anything all by myself. The store seemed big and crowded, full of people scrambling to finish their Christmas shopping. For a few moments I just stood there, confused, clutching that ten-dollar bill, wondering what to buy, and who on earth to buy it for.

I thought of everybody I knew: my family, my friends, my neighbors, the kids at school, the people who went to my church. I was just about thought out, when I suddenly thought of Bobbie Decker. He was a kid with bad breath and messy hair, and he sat right behind me in Mrs. Pollock's grade-two class.

Bobbie Decker didn't have a coat. I knew that because he never went out for recess during the winter. His mother always wrote a note, telling the teacher that he had a cough, but all we kids knew that Bobbie Decker didn't have a cough, and he didn't have a coat.

I fingered the ten-dollar bill with growing excitement. I would buy Bobbie Decker a coat. I settled on a red corduroy one that had a hood to it. It looked real warm, and he would like that.

"Is this a Christmas present for someone?" the lady behind the counter asked kindly, as I laid my ten dollars down.

"Yes," I replied shyly. "It's ... for Bobbie." The nice lady smiled at me. I didn't get any change, but she put the coat in a bag and wished me a Merry Christmas.

That evening, Grandma helped me wrap the coat in Christmas paper and ribbons, and write, "To Bobbie, From Santa Claus" on it -- Grandma said that Santa always insisted on secrecy. Then she drove me over to Bobbie Decker's house, explaining as we went that I was now and forever officially one of Santa's helpers.

Grandma parked down the street from Bobbie's house, and she and I crept noiselessly and hid in the bushes by his front walk. Then Grandma gave me a nudge. "All right, Santa Claus," she whispered, "get going."

I took a deep breath, dashed for his front door, threw the present down on his step, pounded his doorbell and flew back to the safety of the bushes and Grandma. Together we waited breathlessly in the darkness for the front door to open. Finally it did, and there stood Bobbie.

Forty years haven't dimmed the thrill of those moments spent shivering, beside my grandma, in Bobbie Decker's bushes. That night, I realized that those awful rumors about Santa Claus were just what Grandma said they were: ridiculous!

Santa was alive and well, and we were on his team.

Gifts on Our First Christmas

by Dr. Ralph F. Wilson

The first Christmas after we were married was pretty slim as Christmases go. I was in the army, living off base in Maryland — and we were broke.

We went down to a Christmas tree lot in town to find a tree, but they were all too expensive. Finally, the owner, seeing my uniform, said, "We have a special price for active military," and gave us a tree for half-price.

We had no lights or ornaments, except a couple boxes of very tiny blue and yellow balls and some pressed Spritz cookies that my wife Jean baked and hung on the tree.

On Christmas morning we opened our gifts to each other. Jean had given me a bird book - which I still have to this day — and I had given her a pin and some fur-lined leather gloves.

It was the leanest Christmas of our lives, but the one I'll remember the best. It was about giving something personal to the one I cherished and receiving something special from the one who loved me.

It is in simple, loving giving and receiving that we find the Heart of the Christmas.

God gave us the most precious thing to Him — His only begotten Son.

He came as a baby, born in a stable, laid in a rough wooden manger, and 33 years later died on a rude wooden cross for our sins. Then Easter morning God raised Him from the dead!

God gave us His most precious, His most costly gift that Christmas night.

And what do you have to give to Him that He really wants?

A prayer? A song? Good, but not enough.

An offering of a few dollars or a few hundred dollars? That's good, but if that's all, it somehow cheapens Christmas and turns it into a commercial transaction. That's only money -- and you can earn more of that.

On Christmas, the only gift that is worthy is to give Him, the only gift He really hopes for, is that which is most precious to you — and most costly: your heart, your life, your love, your future.

Perhaps you've withheld this special gift from Him, but now is the time. At this special time, don't withhold from Him the only gift He really desires from you.

Father, at this Christmas time we thank You for Your gift of Jesus. And somehow we want to reciprocate, to give You a gift, but we know we have nothing to compare with Your Gift. Yet, right now we open up our hearts to You. We surrender ourselves to You. We give You our hearts. We give You our lives. Please bestow on us Your eternal life. In Jesus' name, we pray. Amen.

A Christmas Mistake

Each December, I vowed to make Christmas a calm and peaceful experience.

I had cut back on nonessential obligations - extensive card writing, endless baking, decorating, and even overspending.

Yet still, I found myself exhausted, unable to appreciate the precious family moments, and of course, the true meaning of Christmas.

My son, Nicholas, was in kindergarten that year. It was an exciting season for a six year old. For weeks, he'd been memorizing songs for his school's "Winter Pageant."

I didn't have the heart to tell him I'd be working the night of the production.

Unwilling to miss his shining moment, I spoke with his teacher. She assured me there'd be a dress rehearsal the morning of the presentation.

All parents unable to attend that evening were welcome to come then.

Fortunately, Nicholas seemed happy with the compromise.

So, the morning of the dress rehearsal, I filed in ten minutes early, found a spot on the cafeteria floor and sat down.

Around the room, I saw several other parents quietly scampering to their seats.

As I waited, the students were led into the room.

Each class, accompanied by their teacher, sat cross-legged on the floor. Then, each group, one by one, rose to perform their song.

Because the public school system had long stopped referring to the holiday as "Christmas," I didn't expect anything other than fun, commercial entertainment - songs of reindeer, Santa Claus, snowflakes and good cheer.

So, when my son's class rose to sing, "Christmas Love," I was slightly taken aback by its bold title.

Nicholas was aglow, as were all of his classmates, adorned in fuzzy mittens, red sweaters, and bright snow caps upon their heads.

Those in the front row- center stage - held up large letters, one by one, to spell out the title of the song.

As the class would sing "C is for Christmas," a child would hold up the letter C.

Then, "H is for Happy," and on and on, until each child holding up his portion had presented the complete message, "Christmas Love."

The performance was going smoothly, until suddenly, we noticed her; a small, quiet, girl in the front row holding the letter "M" upside down - totally unaware her letter "M" appeared as a "W".

The audience of 1st through 6th graders snickered at this little one's mistake.

But she had no idea they were laughing at her, so she stood tall, proudly holding her "W".

Although many teachers tried to shush the children, the laughter continued until the last letter was raised, and we all saw it together.

A hush came over the audience and eyes began to widen.

In that instant, we understood - the reason we were there, why we celebrated the holiday in the first place, why even in the chaos, there was a purpose for our festivities.

For when the last letter was held high, the message read loud and clear:

"CHRIST WAS LOVE"

And, I believe, He still is.

Specialty Vehicle Association of Alberta

Protecting the rights and privileges of auto enthusiasts of Alberta since 1974

The SVAA was created in 1974 by a group of members of several Alberta vintage vehicle clubs for the original purpose of correlating event dates to avoid conflict. This grew into a lobby group which over the years was able to bring antique (one-time) licensing for vintage cars (25 years and older) to Alberta, and recently was able to petition, with the National Association, the Federal Government in order to prevent the creation of pollution or junker laws with respect to old cars.

Today, the SVAA consists of some 35 Alberta Vintage, Modified, Street Rod and 4-wheel Clubs in Alberta, representing some 2 000 individual persons.

Mission Statement

The Association is dedicated to the preservation, restoration, and enjoyment of all antique, collector, vintage and specialty vehicles. Also, the Society is dedicated to bringing all auto related clubs in Alberta together, to promote and protect our common interest in the Automobile Hobby.

Add the ground beef to the pot. Break it apart with a wooden spoon. Cook for 6-7 minutes, until the beef is browned, stirring occasionally.

Add the green pepper, chili powder, tomato sauce, tomato soup, tomato paste, garlic powder, salt, pepper, mushrooms and optional cayenne. Stir until well combined.
